Mr. Alfred O. Grubert of the School Administrative Staff, and Miss Lenore W. Martin, our Art Director, were joined in Holy Matrimony Saturday noon, June 16th, at Grace Lutheran Church, Valentine Avenue and 199th Street, Bronx. They were attended by the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mertin L. Martin.

The bride wore a white crepe dress and carried a satin muff of lilies of the valley and white orchids. The bride's attendant was attired in a yellow silk dress and wore a corsage of lavender orchids.

After the ceremony, the bride and groom spent the week-end motoring through the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Grubert expect to spend the month of July at Fond du Lac, Wis., the bride's hometown, after which they will return to their new home on Washington Heights.

Friends of the newlyweds in the Administrative, Vocational and Household Departments presented them with a beautiful silver serving tray.

With the fine weather prevailing the past week, those who could, have gone out of the city. Supt. Skyberg and family are now settled in their country place upstate, though Mr. Skyberg is back at present for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Boatner left Thursday last, for their long trip down to Gulfport, Miss., their home town. They will go leisurely, stopping to visit relatives at several places on the way.

Major and Mrs. Altenderfer enjoyed several days in the Catskills around Phoenicia, where the Major found the fishing was first-rate, and got the "limit" catch most every day.

Miss Alice Judge hied herself, trunks and all, to her beloved West Saugerties hamlet, where it is said a new bungalow was built especially for her. In her new surroundings and a fresh coat of paint on her famous ice-cream freezer, she is now all set to entertain those lucky enough to be invited as guests.

Mr. W. A. Renner, of the printing office, leaves with his family for their homestead in the Catskills on July 3d.

Mr. Crammatte was deluged with visitors last Sunday. In the morning came Mr. Robert M. Greenmun, of Binghamton. Mr. Greenmun practically established legal residence here last summer while undergoing a series of mastoid operations; his present visit is for a re-examination to discover if the operations "took." Sunday afternoon brought Mr. Max Friedman, of Hartford, Conn.; Mr. Friedman was just visiting.

Besides these visitors, Mr. Donald Karshner, of Aberdeen, Wash., a schoolmate of Mr. Crammatte, has been his guest for several days. Mr. Karshner is a teacher in the Junior High School at Aberdeen and was much interested in the School equipment and methods of teaching. However, the School family has seen very little of Mr. Karshner, as he has spent most of his time seeing the sights.

Mrs. M. H. Voorhees has completed a course in First Aid under the National Red Cross Chapter, at Hunter College, under Dr. Redden, who had charge of the Flood Relief during the Florida disaster. Mrs. Voorhees has been awarded a Senior diploma in First Aid, which entitles her to organize and instruct classes in First Aid authorized by National Red Cross.

Messrs. Morrill and Rayhill spent Sunday wooing Apollo and Neptune. Mr. Morrill went to Asbury Park to visit friends and Mr. Rayhill spent the day at Rockaway Point, swimming and boating with a party of friends.

Mr. Rayhill will spend his vacation—beginning July 1st—at his home in Springfield, Ill. Mr. Morrill's vacation comes at the same time; he will go home to North Carolina for a month.

Genevieve Puszcz has a brother who is a member of the 21st Brigade, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. Under the date of May 26th this brother writes to the school and asks for a copy of the Manual Alphabet so he may learn it, which was sent to him along with a copy of the Graduation Number of the Fanwood Journal, containing pictures of the School.

Marvin I. Miroff was admitted as a pupil on June 18th last. He previously attended Lincoln High School, Brooklyn, and was in his fourth term there. Marvin became deaf at ten years of age and until this time has been able to carry on successfully in a school for hearing children. However, it was felt by his teachers that Marvin should come to us, and as he has a special aptitude for printing, take up this branch of instruction in conjunction with his regular academic subjects.

A novel sight around the boys play yard recently has been an ancient tandem bicycle that was unearthed from somewhere. Sans tires and chain, nevertheless, the small boys are having lots of fun coasting down the concrete sidewalk. Old timers are reminded of the years when bicycles were common before autos came into vogue, and it was quite "the thing" to take one's girl out tandem riding then. Some societies even had strongly-constructed bicycles seating eight persons.

Mr. A. O. Grubert is the latest to own a car, having purchased a Ford coupe recently.

Mr. Alfred Byrne, a former pupil for a short time, was a caller Monday. He was the lone graduate from the Malone School this year.

A battery of heavy coal trucks have been coming and going this week, laying in our winter supply of coal, comprising 1,600 tons.

Mr. F. Lux is polishing and conditioning his car, preparatory to a trip to Miami, Florida.

Notice

Due to the unexpectedly large number of entrants and the lack of proper facilities at Hotel Pennsylvania, where it was originally planned to hold the affair, the International Exhibition of Fine and Applied Arts by Deaf Artists will take place at the Roerich Museum, 310 Riverside Drive, New York City. The date remains unaltered—July 21st to August 11th. The change is a distinct advantage for the exhibition, as the museum assures it of a dignified and sympathetic surrounding and greater publicity among art circles.

Fifty-seven artists, representing nine European countries, are included among the exhibitors, and most of the leading deaf artists of this country have entered their works.

Definite information covering the exhibition in its numerous details will be published in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL as soon as it is available, within the next few weeks.

ELEANOR E. SHERMAN,
Chairman.

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Among the Pittsburghers who attended the recent Ohio reunion at Columbus were Sam Frank, H. Schubach, Dan Irvin, F. Ruppert, Miss O'Haran, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leitner, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Holliday, Mr. and Mrs. William Sawhill and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bardes. It was the first visit of all except the Sawhills and Mr. Bardes, who were former Ohio pupils and have made it a point to attend gatherings of their old associates whenever possible. The Ohio Home for the Aged and Infirm, in particular, made a favorable impression on the Pennsylvanians, who fully realize what an effort it means to establish and keep going such an altruistic object.

After the reunion the Leitners motored to Lexington, La., thence to St. Louis, where they took in the Frat picnic, June 9th, according to card received. Their ultimate destination undoubtedly is the western part of Nebraska, where Mrs. Leitner formerly lived.

In his plans of "Going West Young Man," Phillip Busheim was only able to go as far as Columbus and after the reunion turned tail. No jobs were available on the way and now he is once more trying familiar grounds.

Mr. Ruppert remained in Columbus with friends a few days after the reunion and bobbed up at the residence of the Hollidays with Fred Lee, of Chicago, in his car, accompanied by Mrs. Ruppert and his sister, Sunday, June 10th. Mr. Lee was being taken on a sightseeing tour and as he originally hailed from Nebraska, the pleasure of the trip could not be complete without greeting Mrs. Holliday, another former Nebraskan.

It was a great pleasure to meet again Rev. Franklin C. Smielau, who had labored both spiritually and materially for the Pennsylvania deaf for more than half his life. So we may know that he still cherishes the memory of his old friends, he told us that he now no longer counts sheep jumping over a fence to fall asleep, but instead goes over the names of the Pennsylvania deaf, which he has found works better.

Mrs. Earl Mather (Ethelburga Zell), a "big shot" among the Ohioans, was conspicuous by her inactivity during the reunion. She had the misfortune to fall down the cellar stairs of her home the day the reunion started, injuring her right leg so badly that she could not get about without limping. The Zell house was over-crowded with guests, and this hospitality was much appreciated by Ernest Craig, of Chicago; Eugene McConnell, printing instructor at the Iowa school; Miss Elizabeth Moss, a teacher at the Indiana school; the Hollidays and Ernest Mather, to say nothing of the newly-made husband, Earl.

June, being the month of brides, showers were tendered Misses Ruth Davies and Iva McGlumphy, both assistant supervisors at the Edgewood school. Just when they are to embark on the sea of matrimony has not yet been learned. Their engagements were recently announced, and whippers have it that the knots are to be tied very soon. THE HOLLIDAYS.

H. A. D.

Abe Kruger, Chairman of the Athletic Committee, announces that he has procured a number of special-rate tickets for the St. George swimming pool in Brooklyn. Those wishing to join the first of a series of swimming parties, commencing the first Wednesday in August, will please get in touch with Mr. Kruger at the H. A. D., 210 West 91st Street.

NEW YORK CITY

N. A. D.

Additional names of "out of towners" coming to the N. A. D. Convention are: "Uncle Abe" Greener and daughter, of Columbus, O.; Miss Keeley, of Utah; Louis Baur and Wm. Rubeling, of St. Louis, Mo.; M. Lapides, of Berkeley, Cal.; F. Fancher, of Illinois; the Durians, of Connecticut; the Leitners and Miss G. Havens, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; A. L. Roberts, of Chicago; Mrs. C. C. Colby, of Washington, D. C.; George T. Sanders, of Philadelphia; Miss Clara B. Rogers, South Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Clark, of Scranton, Pa.; Miss Dora Heim, of Kane, Pa.; and Miss Theresa Schoenenberger, of Ashland, Pa. Also, Mr. Peter T. Hughes is planning a bus-load of Fulton, Mo., school teachers.

Additional interpreters are required for the Royal Blue Line Bus Tour of New York, to be held on Tuesday afternoon, July 24th. Will those of the deaf having hearing relatives, able to use the sign-language, please send along their names to Chairman M. Kenner, so that adequate arrangements can be made.

Sunday, June 3d, Mr. John J. Reilly, of Jersey City, entertained a few friends for dinner and supper at his home to cheer his wife, as she is an invalid and unable to get around as she did years ago. The menu was excellent and all were tempted to ask for a second helping. Those present at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schlupf, Miss Annie Kugeler, of Brooklyn; Misses Gladys, Lillian and Helen Schlupf. In the afternoon, Mr. Schlupf accompanied Miss Annie Kugeler to pay their last respects to Mrs. H. Glynn, of Jersey City, who died June 1st, and they also made a short trip over to see Mr. Erwin Earnest, who is at the City Hospital, suffering with fractured ribs caused by a bus inside of his work shop. He will be back home in a few days.

After supper cards were played, and the winner turned out to be Miss Annie Kugeler. Mrs. Schmitt, sister to Mrs. Reilly, and her nephew, Mr. Dan Schmidt, of Newark, called, as did Mrs. Bieber, of Jersey City. Before starting for home, Mr. J. Reilly treated all to ice-cream. In all it was a very enjoyable day.

On Saturday, June 23d, the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Weinberg gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zwicker and tendered them a surprise party on the occasion of their tenth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zwicker, Mr. and Mrs. Calman Davis and Miss Katherine Neth, who managed the affair, served a delicious supper, consisting of sliced cold cuts, salads and rice pudding. Liquids were also gulped down for the health of the honored couple. A huge wedding cake, topped with whipped cream, was baked by Mrs. Zwicker. Ice-cream, dainty cakes and plenty of punch were on hand. Mr. and Mrs. Weinberg were presented with a fat purse from their friends. The guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Calman Davis, Albert Zwicker, Max Miller, Joseph Zwicker, J. Byck, Prisament, Louis Hagan, Michael Goldstein, Henry Peters; Mesdames Finkelstein, Blechner, Schulman, Eber and Lounsbury; Miss Katherine Neth and Mr. Lester Hyams.

A party in honor of Miss Sylvia Auerbach's graduation was given at her home by her parents on Saturday evening, June 23d. More than twenty friends attended.

CHICAGO

From Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Loomis, Miss Justina Bettag, Mrs. L. M. Barr, and several others, went to Indianapolis to attend the fourteenth school reunion of the Indiana Association of the Deaf, at the State school, June 8th to 10th. About 400 enrolled as members of the Association, and 100 also were present. The address of welcome by the superintendent, Dr. O. M. Pittenger, and the response by Mr. Wiggins, were the principal parts of the afternoon session. Reports were given, some amendments submitted, and the election of officers carried through at the evening session. Mr. Hetzler was elected president; Mr. R. Philip, vice-president; A. Norris, secretary; R. E. Binkley, treasurer. P. J. Hasenstab and H. Jackson are two new directors. Mr. M. L. Ralston was also made a director.

Saturday morning, a business session was held. The amendments were somewhat altered and then passed. Other matters received their consideration and were acted upon. The afternoon was given to races and contests, and a game of indoor baseball between the north and south residents of the State was played, the south winning.

A special chicken dinner was partaken of, and then a business session was held, at which the resolutions were submitted by the committee on resolutions, and read and adopted; the new officers installed, and the motion to hold the golden jubilee (fiftieth anniversary of the Association) in the summer of 1936 was passed.

The Sunday service was held at 9:30 A.M., conducted by the Revs. Steidemann of St. Louis, Hasenstab of Chicago, and Utten Read of Cincinnati. Mrs. Melvin Miller, of Goshen, gave the hymn "Onward, Christian Soldiers," and a recent graduate of the school gave "O Lord, Hear My Prayer." The Rev. Steidemann delivered the sermon on the wedding garment in the parable of the marriage feast. After dinner, the Association assembled on the front steps of the school for a group photograph. Then the reunion closed, the visitors starting for home.

As an exception to the general practice, Friday evening was selected as the date for a surprise party by the trio, Mrs. Michaelson and Misses Erickson and Plourshinski. The exact date was June 15th; the surprised victim, Mrs. Ben Ursin; the reason, her birthday; her present age, not revealed, but if one takes 40 as the criterion age with which to begin life, she is suspected as being one year old. The party was unconventional, though it was originally planned along the routine lines. She (Mrs. Ben Ursin) was a refractory person for Mrs. Michaelson to yank out of her (the Ursin) home, so that the people could go in and jump on her as she came in. The plan did not carry out; she stuck inside; Mrs. Michaelson did not arrive; the merry-makers began to troop in. But the joke was on Mrs. Ursin. She was not at all dressed, not even washed up. Sweat and dust were her best clothes. As soon as she realized what it was all about, she calmly took a bath, much to the amusement of the well-wishers, who thought that it should have been a bathing suit-party if it could have helped her out of her embarrassment. She was showered with presents and money contributed by the party. Mr. Frederick Meagher figured as the solo speaker—silver-tongued as Ingersoll, and brilliant as Mark Twain.

Saturday evening, June 16th, saw the marriage of Gordon M. Rice and Martha Gudmundson, at Grant Crossing Swedish Church, 74th and Cottage Grove. The ceremony bore all the traces of high-society solemnity and floweriness. Petals strewn the way as one couple after another took a measured step toward the altar. The best man was Frederick Hinrichs; the bridesmaid, Catherine DeYoung; the maid of honor, the mother's sister. The ushers were Earl Nelson, Catherine DeYoung and Mrs. E. Filliger. It was estimated that about 250 people formed an interested audience, and for the reception, 100 were invited. The destination of the honeymooners is traditionally unknown.

The same evening, the Migatz couple was given a surprise party by about thirty-six people, on the consummation of their fifteenth year of marriage, at their north side home. Mrs. Anna Hunter was the prime mover, assisted by Mrs. Pines, the sister of Mrs. Mildred Migatz. Twenty dollars were tendered to the pair as a gift. John Sullivan, that perennial knot-maker, officiated as a rabbi to perfection.

Miss Sadie Crooks is another one to be surprised on Sunday, June 17th, by a large group of women, at the home of Mrs. Peter Livshis, because, like everybody else, she has to marry sooner or later, and the fellow that is "willin'" is William McElroy. Sadie is pretty well known as being too cocksure, which fact rendered her vulnerable. She "sure" was surprised. This prospective couple were as good as two birds in any tree, with nothing but twigs with which to build a home—and the presents given to her were the first useful twigs to get her agoing.

On top of this surprise was still another surprise for all the girls at that party, as well as the boys that called on them in the evening. The shower party turned into a semi-reception, and in walked Mr. Fred Henrichs with his sweetheart, Enid Hanigan. With casualness that made his words sound unbelievable, he introduced to one his by-stander as Mrs. Frederick Hinrichs. Each and everyone thought he was joking as a matter of course. Slowly it dawned on them that she was indeed a bride—since August 30th, 1933. The reaction of each individual to this unexpected announcement was a study in incredulity, a fit subject that would have captivated any artist, a movie director or a stage understudy in search of an exact pose. This couple was married at Evangelical Lutheran Church in Austin. The only witnesses were Earl Nelson and Mrs. Ed Filliger, and tribute must be paid them for their complete silence of about one year.

Henry Bruns and Miss MacLachlan were married at City Hall near the end of May, and honored Stevens Hotel with their honeymoon. The Century of Progress at the World's Fair will be their happy hunting-grounds of honeymoon joys. Since the fair has most of the European villages, it is an ideal spot for brides and bridegrooms.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Benagh, hailing from Birmingham, Ala., are stopping at the home of their son here. They may remain if they find living in this city to their liking.

Mrs. Sarah Suttka, who is in charge of the sewing department at the Kentucky deaf school as instructor, is visiting with Miss G. Fulton for some time.

Such a Good Baby!

A new case of mistaken identity is reported by the Philadelphia Public Ledger. One hot afternoon a young man in shirt-sleeves and straw hat was wheeling a baby carriage back and forth before a small house near Fairmount Park. He looked hot, but contented.

"My dear!" came a voice from an upper window of the house.

"Now let me alone!" he called back. "We're all right."

An hour later the same voice came again in earnest, pleading tones:

"George, dear!"

"Well, what do you want?" he responded. "Have the water-pipes burst?"

"No, George, dear, but you have been wheeling Anna's doll all the afternoon. Isn't it time for the baby to have a turn?"

Here and There

At this time of the year the heart of many a fond parent beats with elation over the achievement of a child, either at a high school or at a collegiate institute, hence it must be recorded the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Tucker, of Richmond, Va., are priding themselves over the graduation of their youngest of eight children, James, at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, he being the second son to have taken the full technical course at this fine school. Because of the thorough training this place gives, the young man has already secured offers of lucrative engineering positions.

The eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Johnston, of Lynchburg, Va., recently completed High School and was one of the competitors for one of the scholarships at Lynchburg College. Whether she has realized her ambition to become a college co-ed, information has not yet been given out.

Lynchburg is, by the way, the hometown of a fine colony of deaf residents, four of whom, Clay Johnston, Wm. F. Johnston, Roy Johnson and J. Wattie Allen, own their homes. Not far away are S. C. Jones and Dudley Johnston, who can boast of being the owners of fine farms.

At Staunton, Va., the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Weaver is expecting to complete her course at Barnard College for Women in a year. It is hoped she will take up the teaching of the deaf, as originally intended, when she receives her diploma.

Miss Alice Jennings, who has been teaching at the Virginia State School for Colored Deaf the past few years, has resigned her position. Just before the close of the school she was tendered a linen shower by friends in and around Newport News, in consequence of which she had her hope chest considerably filled.

Mr. S. C. Jones, who prides himself upon having trained not a few disciples of Benjamin Franklin in the "art preservative of all arts" at the Virginia school and who also taught the colored boys in agriculture at Newport News for several years, is now a "farmer of the old school" at Gladys, Va. He and Mrs. Jones are the proud parents of a trio of daughters, one of whom is a valued teacher at the Northampton school; another is a valued employee of the Western Union Telegraph Co. at Washington City; the third is an ex-teacher and the helpmeet of a principal of a high school not far from the parental home.

The members of the Virginia Association of the Deaf are anticipating a large attendance at their convention at Newport News, August 17th and 18th. The fact that the city is right close to the Atlantic, where swimming is excellent, will no doubt induce many to make up their minds to be on hand.

Another convention will be held at Huntington, W. Va., August 31st and September 1st and 2d, and another record crowd is expected to be in attendance. This will be the first time the West Virginians will meet outside the institution at Romney, and President Marshall is moving for a complete success.

And last, but by no means least, will be the coming Triennial Convention of the National Association of the Deaf in New York City in July. Just how many from Washington City and the Virginias will be gazing at the skyscrapers, deponent knoweth not.

With the advent of the heated season, comes a let up in the usual social gatherings here and there. In Washington City, St. Barnabas' Mission will have no more monthly socials on the second Wednesday nights during July and August. At the recent June gathering at St. Mark's, the members were pleased to have the Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Merrill, of Syracuse,

N. Y., and Prof. and Mrs. C. D. Seaton, of Romney, W. Va., with them. Both joined the Washingtonians in delivering short talks.

In the mammoth Internal Revenue office building at Washington City are employed the youngest of three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lepley, of Denver, Colo. During the Presentation Day exercises at Gallaudet College, Miss Lepley's mother, daughter of the late Frederick L. DeB. Reid, member of the Class of 1872, was present, she having motored all the way from the metropolis of Colorado via the northern part of our country and Canada, down through Canada in Miss Dorothy E. Clark's car. Miss Clark belonging to the Class of '28 at Gallaudet and is now teaching at Colorado Springs.

Two other promising children of deaf parents completed the Normal course at Gallaudet College at the last Presentation Day exercises. They are Stanley D. Roth, of Minnesota, and Miss Mabel Northern, of Colorado. Mr. Roth will be with the West Virginia school next fall, but it has not been learned where Miss Northern will be located.

There are many other children of deaf parents who are making good out in the world, proving beyond a doubt that "handicapped" people can bring up offspring equal to, if not better, than the general run of future citizens of our country. Why, right in Washington City is another wonderful son, who is manager of one of the drug stores—Baxter W. Seaton, by name, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Seaton, of Romney, W. Va.

NEW YORK

JULY 23 - 28
1934

The Local Committee has wisely decreed to leave Tuesday evening, July 24th, open, so that those having diverse interests will be given an opportunity to explore New York by night. Experienced "guides" will tow interested parties to the "Great White Way," famed in song and story; mysterious Chinatown, the historic Bowery, picturesque Greenwich Village—or, what will you have?

Wednesday noon, July 25th, is sacred to the "American Guild of Deaf Pen-Pushers" which celebrates with a feast of Pabulum and Palaver. This is in charge of Altor L. Sedlow, who requests that reservations by silent pen-pushers at $1.00 per plate, be mailed direct to him at 3633 East Tremont Avenue, New York.

On Wednesday afternoon the World's Greatest Amusement Resort—Coney Island—will be invaded by the Convention crowd. "N. A. D. Day" will be proclaimed by its foremost recreation center—Steeplechase Park, which, incidentally, will serve as our rendezvous. A choice of three diverse routes to the famed Isle is offered: By Subway (cheapest ride in the world—about twenty miles distant for only a nickel!) By bus at 75 cents round trip or by steamer, sailing the Atlantic Ocean, 50 cents round trip.

NEWS FLASH—The International Exhibit of Fine and Applied Arts, under Chairmanship of Miss Sherman, has greatly exceeded the fondest expectations of its sponsors. It has developed so rapidly that the present quarters at the Hotel Pennsylvania are considered inadequate. The committee has accordingly arranged to have the Exhibit at the the Roerich Museum, 310 Riverside Drive, corner 103d Street, New York. This internationally known Art Center is much more suitable for the purpose intended.

MARCUS L. KENNER,
Chairman.

Some Long Names

Lloyd Stoner of Conoquenessing was a visitor in Punxsutawney, Pa., on June 9th, and called upon the Merrit W. Postlethwaites.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to Miss B. Edgar, 56 Latta Ave., Columbus, O.

Mr. Charles Miller, director of athletics at the Ohio school, found time to "go a courting" this last year, as well as coaching the boys at school. Very few had any idea that Mr. Miller contemplated marriage and when it was announced in the Columbus dailies, with likenesses and all, that he and Miss Mary Jane McWilliams, of Columbus, were quietly married June 15th, everyone was surprised. The bride, a pupil at the school, would have graduated in 1935, but marriage seemed better than another year in school. They were married at the rectory of St. Mary's Church, with Rev. Father Hakel officiating and using the sign-language. The happy couple left for a short wedding trip and will make their home in Columbus. The bride's mother was at one time a visitors' attendant at the school. Later she married a Mr. Connors and has resided in Columbus. The best wishes of a host of surprised friends follow the happy couple.

Mr. Ernest Zell is attending a summer class in art at the Columbus Art School to perfect himself in commercial art, so as to be still more helpful to his students at the school.

Dr. Robert Patterson is remaining in Columbus at the home of his son, Dr. Robert G. Paterson. Later he will go east to see his daughter, Mrs. Bertha Bond, of New York.

So far as I have been able to find out, only two from this locality, Columbus, will be in New York for the N. A. D. meeting. Those two are Mr. A. B. Greener and Mr. Fred Moore. Probably the latter will have his bride along too. Mr. Greener will be accompanied east by his daughter, Mrs. J. K. Sherman, of Fort Wayne, Ind.

At the recent Ohio Reunion, it was decided to change the name of the alumni association to the Ohio State School for the Deaf Alumni Association, thereby dropping the word "mute." In the future when you see O. S. S. D. A. A. remember what that stands for and not get it mixed with the government's new names.

At the reunion it was announced by Supt. Abernathy that a new fountain figure, about four and a half feet high, had been presented to the school by a friend, who wishes to remain anonymous. It is valued at $2,500 and is the creation of a noted sculptor. A lily pool is to be constructed with F. E. R. A. labor and the figure will adorn this pool.

One afternoon I met four at the big meeting who were in the first class I had at the school forty-two years ago. I would have enjoyed getting all my former pupils there together just to see how many there were, but there was no time to have such a meeting.

Mrs. A. Meehan, after a visit with her sister in Zanesville, returned to Columbus with Mr. Meehan and they were guests at the Zell home. Miss MacGregor entertained for them and a few friends, and Mrs. Meehan left June 13th, for their home in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mather are now located in an apartment in Richmond, Ind., for the summer.

Miss Edwina Woolley, daughter of Mrs. Hannah Ranz Woolley, of Cincinnati, graduated June 15th, from the University of Cincinnati. Miss Woolley has thought some of taking up teaching the deaf.

Word from Mrs. Sawhill, of Pittsburgh, tells me that Mr. J. L. Friend, known to many Ohioans, had a fire visit his farm in Volant, Pa., and his fine barn was burned down. Fortunately it was covered by insurance and it is to be rebuilt at once.

Mrs. Laverna C. Pumphrey, of South Zanesville, attended the reunion and brought her daughter, who had just graduated from the Zanesville high school.

Mrs. Andrewjeski, of Akron, with her two daughters, is now at her old home in Mississippi, to be with her aged father who has been very ill.

Miss Dorothy Winemiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Winemiller, has started with a friend to enjoy a motor trip through the southwest. Dot is one of those girls who has to be on the move when free from school. It is said that she may be a Normal Fellow at Gallaudet next year.

From reports sent me, Mr. Leon Jones, an Ohioan of Florida, has gone to Washington, D. C., to accept a position in the United States printing office. Mr. Jones married Tena Miller and they have one daughter. He is a good linotype operator, and his Ohio friends are glad to learn of his good luck.

Well, folks, the Ohio school is a combined school, but I failed to see any combination during the reunion, as all conversation seemed to be via the good old signs.

MEMORIAL TABLET

A bronze tablet to mark the spot on the grounds of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company where the American School for the Deaf was located for a one hundred years, was unveiled Sunday afternoon, June 17th, before about 200 alumni and guests, and some of the Board of Directors of the School. The alumni and guests were assembled in front of the office building of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company. The presentation was made by Prof. Henry A. Perkins, president of the Board of Directors of the school. He then gave a brief history of the school from its inception on Prospect Street, Hartford, to its present location in West Hartford.

Principal F. R. Wheeler, of the American School for the Deaf, served in the capacity of interpreter.

The tablet was then unveiled by Miss Katherine Gallaudet of Hartford, granddaughter of Dr. Thomas H. Gallaudet, founder of the school. It reads as follows:—

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL
AT HARTFORD
FOR THE DEAF
Founded in 1817

Occupied this site for a century from 1821 until 1921, when it moved to its new location in West Hartford. In its place was erected the present home of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

Mr. James Wyper, vice-president of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, accepted the tablet. Then he gave the Alumni Association a symbolic gold key to the buildings of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

Mr. Edward Szopa, president of the American School for the Deaf Alumni Association, followed with a short speech.

The benediction was given by the Rev. John A. Sullivan, chaplain for the deaf, and brother of James A. Sullivan, member of the American School faculty.

After the ceremonies the alumni and guests were conducted through the buildings of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

TESTIMONIAL DINNER

Frank R. Wheeler, this June, completes twenty-one years as principal of the American School for the Deaf. The Alumni Association met at the school, June 15th to 17th, and one of the handsome things that the alumni did was to present Mr. Wheeler with a picture of himself in commemoration of the anniversary.

Saturday evening, June 16th, the alumni dinner was held in the school dining room. About 190 were present. Prof. Henry A. Perkins, president of the Board of Directors, Principal and Mrs. Wheeler and daughter, Mrs. Ralph Campbell, Miss Katherine Gallaudet, and some of the "pupils" in the sixties or seventies were the honor guests of the Alumni Association.

The school colors of orange and black were effectively carried out. Flowers adorned every table. The place cards consisted of pen and ink drawings showing classes of the American school, and outside schools for the non-alumni.

Toastmaster Edward Szopa opened the program by introducing Mrs. Ralph Campbell, who came from Madison, Wis., to spend the summer with her parents, Principal and Mrs. Wheeler and to unveil the portrait of Principal F. R. Wheeler, and then Mr. Szopa voiced the sincere feeling of all in his talk, "Our appreciation of his twenty-one years of service as Principal."

Mr. Wheeler was so taken by surprise that he stammered his thanks. At last he understood why Mrs. Wheeler insisted on his having another picture of himself taken. He had one good picture taken last year and claimed that this was enough.

Then followed President Henry A. Perkins of the Board, who spoke in his customary pleasing manner on his twenty-one years association with Mr. Wheeler.

Mr. Marcus Kenner, of New York, a candidate for president of the National Association of the Deaf was present, so he was asked to speak on the coming convention of the National Association in New York in July.

Gallaudet Home

Saturday, June 2d, was Founder's Day at the Gallaudet Home. Several of the Trustees of the Church Mission and some visitors visited the Home. They were Misses Elizabeth Gallaudet and Eleanor Sherman, Dr. Nies and wife, Rev. Messrs. Frederick Burgess and Guilbert C. Braddock, Mr. Frederick H. Meeder, from New York City, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gillen, of Valley Stream, L. I. The Board of Lady Managers met with the Trustees in a business meeting at which Mrs. D. Crosby Foster presided. Some of the trustees inspected the cemetery before the meeting.

After the meeting, the visitors joined the residents of the Home in a chapel service at 12:30 p.m. The service was conducted by the Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock and the Rev. Maxwell Rice, Rector of Zion Church, Wappingers Falls. A hymn, "O, Master, let me walk with Thee," was sung by Miss Eleanor Sherman. Rev. Braddock delivered a sermonette on the text: "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God" (Luke 12:34). Addresses were made by Mr. Whitcomb, Rev. Rice and Rev. Burgess. Luncheon was served.

On Saturday afternoon, June 16th, we entertained about fifty-one deaf and hearing guests, and children, from New York City and vicinity. They came here by bus. Mrs. Lewis and Kohler came by car from Yonkers, Mr. and Mrs. Lefi, of New York City, came by train. Mr. and Mrs. Bowdren and children drove to the Home from Peekskill, and Mr. Conklin motored to this place from Beacon. Coffee and ice-cream were on sale and a sum of ten dollars was realized for the benefit of the Home. In the afternoon the sun was warm and bright. The residents of the Home had a good time, greeting many deaf friends. The visitors ate their lunch beneath the trees. They enjoyed inspecting the rooms of the Home and gave some of the old people a pleasant visit to remember. They all said the Home is in a beautiful location. Chairman Mr. R. Kersetter had charge of the bus excursion and the pleasant trip was enjoyed by all, and turned out to be a success. They all left for home on the bus at 5:30 p.m.

On the evening of the 4th of June, Miss Martin received the sad news of the death in Yonkers, N. Y., of Mr. William W. Thomas. Mr. Thomas, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Home, and one whom we will long remember for his many kindly and gracious acts, and generous gifts of ice-cream and personal presents at Christmas and other times. He died after a one-month's illness at the St. John's Hospital in Yonkers. Miss Martin, Miss Allen and Mr. Nuboer drove to Yonkers, Wednesday afternoon, to attend the funeral service. We are very sorry to learn of our friend's untimely passing. May 26th, through a letter received from Mr. Thomas' sister, Miss Martin informed us that Mr. Thomas was very ill. The friends at the Home sent flowers to Mr. Thomas.

Louis Tomlins, our janitor and gardener, has been busy caring for the flower garden and rock-garden. The matrons had planted two fir trees near the huge portico, one on each side. The flower garden, containing especially a lovely bed of purple iris, and tiger lily, mixed gladioli, mixed flowers, all kinds daisy, tip top poppies, and bachelor button, are on the front lawn near the trestle and flag-pole. The whole rock garden and flowers, trestle, flag-pole, trees, loop road, shrubs, all present a fine appearance.

On May 18th, Mr. and Mrs. Kohl celebrated their forty-seventh wedding anniversary. Covers were placed for ten. Their guests were Mr. W. Stillwell, Mrs. LaPaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Keller, Mrs. Rascol, C. Meyer, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Vanskirk. Refreshments appropriate to the occasion were served by the waitresses, Mamie and Cora Anderson. Miss Allen assisted Miss Martin in entertaining the party. The guests of honor received gifts from the matrons. We think we shall organize a Golden Wedding Club in 1937.

The cattle, fifteen Holstein cows and twelve heifers, have recently been turned out to graze in the pastures, which are fine.

The lane leading from the entrance, which is a quarter mile long, is beautifully shaded with maples and pines. Many people driving to the Home remark on the pleasant vista made by the natural artistic grouping of trees, shrubs, and in the distance, creek, pastures, and farm buildings.

Miss Martin has purchased a new 8 by 12 flag to replace the one almost worn out by constant use. John Burmeister has the honor of raising and lowering it daily, and has discharged the duty conscientiously and promptly for the past four years. Mr. Burmeister salutes the flag, "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands; the United States of America, one flag, one country, one people, one and indivisible."

We are enjoying many strawberry shortcakes and strawberries here now, which grow in the Home's fine garden. The cook had to fix them in many delightful ways to tempt our appetites, which never do need tempting when there are strawberries. The matron has canned between 50 and 60 quarts, besides many quarts of jam for winter use. Mr. Gardner's garden also furnishes us with many delicious green vegetables in season.

On the 6th of May, Christian Meyer was pleasantly surprised by a visit from his son, Charles, and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm, of Brooklyn. The next day Christian celebrated his reaching the Scriptural threescore and ten.

We have had a new friend here at the Home since the 7th of April—Mrs. Bertram F. Stevens, of North Syracuse, a product of the Rome school. She is by now comfortably settled and greatly enjoying the quiet of the Home and of the country.

May 18th, Miss M. Barrager was a visitor with us. She very kindly treated us to ice-cream for dinner, which we deeply appreciated.

On Memorial Day afternoon, the family enjoyed a frankfurter roast on the lawn, after which evening prayer was held in the open.

INDEPENDENCE DAY will soon be with us. It is a day nationally observed in the United States, as being dear to the hearts of the American people. Commemorating the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, July 4th, 1776, it is observed throughout the Union with patriotic exercises. While Congress has never enacted a law making July 4th a holiday, most of the States have passed such a law, and in most States it is a legal holiday.

It is an interesting fact that the Declaration of Independence was written and signed by representatives of the people in a British colony, or sets of colonies, who were themselves either English born or of British descent. They were not of an alien race, and stood firm for the English principle that they should not be taxed while they were not represented in Parliament.

Another fact worthy of remembrance is that, on July 4th, 1918, the day was officially celebrated in England, as marking the unity of the two Anglo-Saxon nations in the great war for Democracy. England and the United States are two prominent nations that have steadfastly adhered to the principles of the Great Charter, wrested from King John at Runnymede in 1215, which forms not only the foundation of English liberty, but is also the corner stone of American liberty.

The anniversary of Magna Charta was recently observed in England with a splendid pageant; Americans also have good reason to observe its recurrent anniversaries in remembrance of the liberties which we have inherited. They are summed up in the principle that there are rights belonging to the people which governments are bound to respect.

In conferring an honorary Doctorate degree upon Superintendent J. W. Blattner of the Oklahoma School for the Deaf, and who is also President of the Conference of Executives of American Schools for the Deaf, Gallaudet College, at its recent Commencement, showed its appreciation of his career as an educator and contributor to the advancement of the deaf. He has given many years of faithful and distinguished service in their behalf, and his life is reflected in hundreds of his former pupils, who have profited under the benign influence of his instruction and guidance.

Those who have the honor of being acquainted with Mr. Blattner will join heartily in the pleasurable feeling that he richly deserves this recognition of meritorious efforts in behalf of the deaf, to whom he has proven a stalwart, loyal friend and has accomplished much in promoting their welfare.

At a testimonial dinner tendered by the Alumni Association to Prof. Frank R. Wheeler, marking the twenty-fifth anniversary as Principal of the American School for the Deaf, Hartford, Conn., the Association presented him a portrait of himself. The dinner offered an opportunity for a number of addresses by those who knew Prof. Wheeler, which testified to his valuable work in connection with the education and material welfare of the deaf of New England. It is a pleasure to see our deaf friends show such appreciation of one so devoted in his enthusiasm for their welfare.

DUE to the Fourth of July holiday, correspondents will please note that the next issue will go to press two days earlier, and will send in their communications accordingly.

OMAHA

Omaha Division, No. 32, will give a big picnic on the N. S. D. grounds, Sunday, July 8th. All are requested to bring their own lunch. There will be various games, and ice-cream and all kinds of drinks will be sold—except moonshine, Scotch and Bourbon rye.

Albert M. Klopping, who has been employed as carpenter by H. A. Wolf & Co. for a very long time, had a very bad accident recently. He cut the palm of his right hand almost to the bone on a running saw. It required several stitches. Charles Macek has taken his place for the time being.

William B. Unwin, who died in Houston, Tex., March 21st, was a pupil at the Nebraska school years ago. He used to work in the packing house in South Omaha. He married Cora Ray and then went south. Nebraska friends lost track of them until notice of his death was published in The Frat.

Lieutenant Owen Comp and his wife and daughter, Susie Jane, were guests of Owen's mother, Mrs. Eva O. Comp, and sister, Mrs. J. W. Jackson, and family for several days. Owen and his family motored from Long Beach, Cal., and were enroute to Annapolis, Md.

Mrs. Robert W. Morrow and children from Tucson, Ariz., are spending the summer at the J. W. Sowell home—as they did last summer. Mr. Morrow came along, but will have to return to his post as superintendent of the school for the deaf.

The printing office at the Nebraska school is a busy place these days, due to work on reports, of the seventeen institutions in the State under the Board of Control. Edward Maier helps Mr. Clayton with the work.

F. Arthur Clayton's youngest brother is a member of the faculty at Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, Md. He is in the dental department.

The May teachers' meeting at the N. S. D. was different from other monthly meetings. It was conducted by the industrial teachers. All assembled in the school parlor, where the industrial work was described, and the guest speaker was Miss McDonald, dean of girls at Tech. High. Then all went on a tour of the various shops, where the pupils' work was on exhibition. The grand climax was the supper prepared by the domestic science girls under Miss Milin Trentham. Everyone who partook of it praised it to the skies. Each teacher drew a number and the lucky ones—three of them—received something made by the young cooks. Mrs. Oscar M. Treuke won first prize, a sponge cake made by an auburn-haired beauty, Betty Jolls.

The local committee of the Nebraska Association of the Deaf held a picnic on the N. S. D. campus, Saturday, June 2d. A small crowd turned out in the afternoon. Blame the heat. There was a soft-ball game. In the evening most of the local silents turned out to see the Russian movie, "Aftermath." Messrs. and Mesdames John Chowins and Austin Beegle, and Mrs. Ed. Cody and John Milan came from Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bender and family, from Milford; and also Claude Jenkins, from David City. Claude has a new car and a chauffeur, his hearing friend. Pop and ice-cream were sold to the sweltering crowd during the day and evening. Mr. and Mrs. Bender and Mr. and Mrs. Beegle and Mrs. Cody were the guests of the Scott Cuscadens.

Mrs. George L. Revers left Sunday morning for her old home in Enid, Okla. She and five other sisters and brothers are to sell a large tract of land and divide the profits. She will be gone a couple of weeks, leaving poor George to "batch" and fix his own meals. That is a thing he considers a task. We bet he will tire and rush to the cafes within a few days.

Omaha friends were surprised to learn of the marriage of Miss Ethel Koblenz, of New York, to Mr. Leonard Lau, of Iowa. Those who had the pleasure of meeting her at the Treuke party last fall will remember her as a quiet and pleasant personality. Mr. Lau, an Iowa product and Gallaudet graduate, has a host of friends on both sides of the Missouri River, who wish the young couple much happiness.

Miss Katherine Slocum, who has finished her junior year at Gallaudet, is at home for the summer. This is her first return in two years, so her friends are rejoicing to have her in their midst again.

Commencement Exercises were held Thursday evening in the N. S. D. auditorium, before a large audience. The stage was neatly decorated with palms and ferns. Rev. J. Harmelink opened with an invocation. James B. Lloyd gave the salutatory and John H. Rabb, the valedictory—the last for long scholarship, a good record and a clean citizenship. The work demonstrated by small pupils was well rendered. Athletic and merit rewards were presented. Dr. W. H. Thompson, son-in-law of the late Dr. J. Schuyler Long and a member of the University of Omaha faculty, addressed the six graduates. Supt. F. W. Booth, being unable to attend, owing to being slightly overcome by the heat, Mr. Welty made the presentation of diplomas, and the seniors and juniors, under his direction, closed the program by rendering orally "America." The graduates are Alexander W. Foster, Omaha; Dorothy V. Johnson, Oakland; Frank J. Koznarek, Crete; James B. Lloyd, Overton; John H. Rabb, Stromsburg; and Harold C. Renshaw, Cozad. The girls of the domestic art department gave a style show in the auditorium, Friday evening, May 4th. They made a very creditable showing, with a variety of useful dresses and costumes for all occasions.

HAL AND MEL.

Travel Note

Mr. Alexander Smith will sail on the Cunard liner "Scythia," on July 6th, for England. With his sister he will tour Europe during the summer.

Los Angeles, Cal.

Plans are well under way for the gigantic picnic on July 4th, sponsored by the "big three", Los Angeles Division, No. 27, N. F. S. D., Los Angeles Silent Club, and the Cosmopolitan Club of the Deaf, at Brookside Park, Pasadena, California. Picnickers are requested to bring their own lunches and cups and there will be free coffee and lemonade at noon. A program of athletic games has been arranged, which starts at 8:30 A.M., and good prizes will be given the winners. It will be managed by a committee representative of the above mentioned organizations.

Mrs. Edna Von Pollnitz, who has been in California since last November, expected to leave on June 10, in a United Airways plane. She said the plane would leave the United Airport at Burbank, and the first stop would be at San Francisco. Here the ten passengers would transfer to another plane and fly direct to Chicago. Transferring there to another plane, the flight then proceeded to their destination, the New Jersey Airport. Mrs. Von Pollnitz expected relatives to meet her there and take her to her home on Long Island. She said she would arrive at the last airport about 24 hours after leaving Burbank. It is believed that she is the first deaf woman to make the trans-continental trip in a plane.

Mrs. Etta O'Leary and her mother left recently for Chicago to spend the summer with relatives and also to visit the Century of Progress Exposition.

Mrs. Jessie Walton's mother died in Ohio on May 18th. Mrs. Walton was not able to go to the funeral, much to her regret. She and her son, Lawrence, and a lady friend spent the first week of June at Lake Arrowhead for a rest and change.

Mrs. Sylvia Balis has discontinued her Union services for the summer months. She and her sister, Dr. Anna Chapin, have gone for a motor trip to several of the National parks.

Mr. Bert Scheffler was operated on for hernia at the General Hospital recently. He is now convalescing nicely at home. It is thought the injury was caused by overexertion while swimming at the beach. Mr. Scheffler has been lucky in holding his job with the Cudahy Packing Company all through the depression.

The picnic at Griffith Park, on May 30th, of the Los Angeles Chapter of the C. A. D., was attended by about 150 persons. They enjoyed the day outdoors, and after their picnic lunch, elected several officers to fill vacancies caused by resignations and the secretary's absence in the East. Simon Himmelschein was elected president; U. M. Cool as vice-president, and Mrs. S. Himmelschein as secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rothert and son, Waldo, Jr., recently moved to the suburb of Hawthorne. A hearing lady friend of Mrs. Rothert's, who grew up with her at Carthage, Mo., persuaded them to make the change, as she was lonely in a large house. Here they are quite a good deal nearer to the ocean breezes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barrett's son, Romney, had his vacation the latter part of May. He took his parents in his car to spend a week at Cedar Crest Camp, on Huntington Lake, in the High Sierras, about 279 miles from Los Angeles. They reported having a real vacation, living in a bungalow cabin among rugged surroundings on the lake front. Huntington Lake is at 7,000 feet elevation, is six miles long and a mile wide, in a picturesque setting of deep green forests, and mountain ranges several thousand feet higher. One morning during their stay there was a belated snow-storm which reminded them of old times in Iowa. They would have gone on a sidetrip to the world famous Florence Lake, twenty-five miles away, but that road does not open till June 15th; around this lake is said to be the most beautiful natural wonderland in California, if not in the world.

Pen-Pushers' Pagan Party

After months of planning, final arrangements have been completed to hold the Pen-Pushers' Pagan Party on Wednesday noon, July 25th, 1934, at Sardi's Restaurant, 234 West 44th Street, in the heart of Manhattan's Gay White Way. Sardi's is probably better known as "The House of Celebrities," inasmuch as its guests comprise the city's best-known actors, newspaper columnists, writers, fighters and would-be greats.

Almost all the famous writers in the city clutter up the place on Wednesdays, so the date has been fixed for this day, as it will give us a chance to invite a few of the better-known writers, such as Heywood Brown, Walter Winchell, Brian James, etc., etc., to join the deaf writers. This place was selected because of its easy accessibility, located as it is on Times Square, just off Seventh Avenue, on the same avenue as convention headquarters.

This affair will be held exclusively for deaf writers and their escorts. It will be the first organized affair given by the League of Deaf Writers; and will be repeated next year at the Kansas City Convention. Guests will receive special souvenir menus, in which will be three or four blank pages for names of guests and celebrities present. It will be something worth treasuring and showing to the folks back home.

All those eligible to attend are urged to make reservations at once. Acknowledgement of reservations will be made on a postal depicting Sardi's famous interior, lined with pictures of famous patrons. Tickets for this affair will go on sale Monday morning, July 23d, at the Pennsylvania Hotel lobby, to those who have made reservations.

One dollar is all that it will cost to attend this affair, and so sure are we of those present receiving more than their money's worth that we refrain from boosting the affair further. Send your reservations.

She Fought For a Life

Nurses are among the heroic fighters of the world. The Contagious Hospital at North Brother Island, New York, has recently been the scene of a brave sacrifice on the part of a young nurse who displayed that love than which no man hath greater. She gave up her life to save that of a child. The New York Sun tells the story:

At the Polyclinic Hospital a little girl developed an alarming form of scarlet fever. It was necessary to remove her to North Brother Island, and Miss Mahler, a graduate of the Rochester University and the City Hospital Training-School, volunteered to go into exile with her. At the island diphtheria developed and the case seemed hopeless. For two weeks, night and day, the untiring nurse fought, single-handed, and through her wonderful skill and unselfish devotion, at the end of that time the little patient was out of danger.

Then the two grim diseases attacked the faithful caretaker, and worn out by the long and ceaseless vigil, she had no strength with which to resist them.

She refused to be moved to better quarters, and there, in the very place where she had conquered for the little, unknown girl, she fought another battle, and this time was overcome. Like every brave nurse, she had taken the risk, knowing and counting well the cost, and she accomplished her purpose, for the child was saved.

Monster Frat Smoker

Tickets are now ready for sale to all members of the N. F. S. D. in good standing for the Monster Frat Smoker to be held at Mecca Temple Casino, 135 West 55th Street, New York City, the night of July 27th. Admittance will be by ticket and presentation of dues card. The tickets will be sold for cash down only. This is necessary, as it is planned to blow every cent on the evening, and the committee has to figure to a split hair and pay for everything as things go along.

Local members should get their tickets at the next meeting of their divisions, when they will be available from committeemen. Out of towners can get their tickets at the Hotel Pennsylvania, the N. A. D. headquarters. The committeemen will wear badges or otherwise be properly labeled, their pockets bulging with tickets for sale.

Brothers Max Lubin and Nathan Schwartz, in charge of the degree work, are going around saying that all present on the evening of the 27th will admit they prepared an impressive ritual program; and the initiations will provide no end of fun for candidates and membership alike.

The committee at large, Brothers Friedwald, Quinn and Barr, are scouring Broadway agencies for the best talent available. Nothing but high-class stuff will do. There will absolutely and positively be no rabbits pulled out of silk hats, no card tricks and no strong boy acts. Their enthusiasm for the peak in entertainment is held down to practicable realities by Brother Barr, who, being treasurer, knows how much currency is on hand, or likely to be.

Those in charge of the affair are much encouraged by the way donations are coming in. But the committee can always use more, spend more, for bigger and better eats, drinks, and professional talent. Donations to date:

Mr. and Mrs. Marion J. Allen, and John B. Smith, all of Greensburg, were the guests on June 3d of Earl and Eugene Stangarone at Connellsville.

It is now over a year ago since Mrs. Felix Hogenmiller, of Jeanette, suffered a paralytic stroke that necessitated her removal to a hospital. Although now at home again, she is confined to bed, and her condition is little better. J. F. V. Long, of Youngwood, visited her recently.

The Greensburg deaf had a picnic on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Poole at Hunker on June 17th, with the ultimate object of forming a Greensburg local branch of the W. P. S. D. Alumni Association. Such branches are now reported as organized already in Erie, Franklin, Oil City, Pittsburgh, and Johnstown.

When RWD work ceased, Earl Stangarone, of Connellsville, looked around for new possibilities for employment, and presently he landed two painting contracts: one, to paint an Esso, and another a Sinclair gas station. Now he has enough work to keep him busy for about five weeks to come.

"Hernley's Weiner Roast" has long been an annual social event at Scottdale. This year Lillian Hernley invited Mrs. Walter E. Bosworth to the affair. The other guests were all hearing people.

Probably it is not generally known that Mrs. Marion J. Allen of Greensburg, the former Georgella Anderson of Greenville, was once a member of the Salvation Army, and wore its uniform. That was before deafness overtook her at the age of thirteen.

Because her former employer has gone to California for the summer, Mary Bush of Connellsville has secured work as housekeeper in the Roman Catholic rectory at Dunbar. She expects to perform similar work for her former employer when the family returns from California in the fall.

On June 8th, Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Jacoby, of Dixonville, quietly celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary.

Frank Berry, of Punxsutawney, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Palmer on their farm at Big Run on June 4th and 5th.

Paul Nefi, Jr., age 18, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nefi, of Punxsutawney, graduated from the local high school on June 8th. Immediately, he secured a position with the United Cigar Stores Co., at Phoenixville.

Mrs. Frank Berry was the guest during the week of June 3d, of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Manner at Clmyer.

The engagement of Richard Friend of Volant to Miss Frances Johnson, of Pittsburgh, has been announced.

Lillian Hernley successfully passed all her examinations at the East Huntingdon high school. Next fall she will begin her senior year there. She is a former pupil of the Edgewood school.

Believe it or not, but because a child was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Swaney on March 12th last, Mrs. Julia A. Collins, of New Stanton, is now a great-grandmother. And she is only 60 years old!

At the services for the deaf held in Christ Church, Punxsutawney, on June 11th, the Rev. Warren M. Smaltz baptized Mrs. Margaret R. Jacoby and Mary J. Mitchell, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Mitchell. Jethro Jacoby and Mrs. Grace Postlethwaite were the witnesses for the former; and Miss Martha L. Smith and Mrs. Kathryn Van Dyke were sponsors for the latter.

Mildred Smaltz, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Warren M. Smaltz, of Lebanon, was a guest at the house party of the Triangle Fraternity at Penn State College on June 9th and 10th.

Around 185 of the western Pennsylvania deaf attend the Alumni Dance held in the Moose Temple, Pittsburgh, on May 26th. Everyone agrees that the affair was an immensely pleasant one. A neat sum was realized for the Alumni Association.

Canadian News

News items for this column, and subscriptions, may be sent to Mrs. A. M. Adam, 143 Grant Avenue, Hamilton, Ont., Canada.

HAMILTON, ONT.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Patterson, of Galt, motored to Hamilton on Saturday, and called on Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor.

Mr. Gordon Webb has been back working at the Reid Press for some time, but does not know yet if the work will be steady.

Several other young men, who are anxious to get work, are still unemployed.

Mr. Jim Matthews has rejoined St. Peter's Tennis Club and may frequently be seen at the courts, accompanied by Mr. Jack Harrison, who has also joined the club.

There is not much doing amongst the deaf here at present, though in a week or two preparations for the picnic will be in full swing.

On calling at Balsam Avenue on Friday evening, the writer found quite a crowd of the deaf assembled on the Gleadow's veranda, and later in the evening, was pleasantly surprised by being made the recipient of some very pretty and useful gifts, and much appreciated the kind thought of her friends in remembering her birthday. A very pleasant evening was spent playing cards, after which light refreshments were served.

The writer had another birthday celebration on Sunday by climbing the 546 steps up the side of the mountain from Wentworth Street and then walking down the steps again—which is harder than going up, as one is inclined to get dizzy on the steeper parts.

GENERAL NEWS

Mr. A. S. Martin, of Waterloo, Ont., had a rather painful accident last Tuesday. He was using a neighbor's exercise outfit, when he fell heavily, sustaining cuts on his forehead and chest, which had to be stitched. After receiving medical aid, Mr. Martin was taken home and has to stay in bed, being weak from loss of blood.

In a letter received from Mrs. Moynihan, of Kitchener, she states that, owing to ill health she has resigned from the chairmanship and has asked Mr. Hagen to take her place in arranging for the coming Kitchener-Waterloo picnic.

Deputy County Clerk Exceeds His Own Record

Troy E. Hill, of 508 1-2 E. Jefferson, a recent addition to the staff of Robin Adair, County Clerk, last week broke his own record for total number of Deeds of Trust pages recorded in a six day week.

In 1921 Hill recorded 220 pages in six 8-hour days, which record has never been equalled, and last week Hill turned out 236 pages, of the same type of work, working only 8 hours a day, and besides recording the 236 pages, signed and filled in Clerk's certificates on all papers handled by him.

Mr. Hill has been in the employ of Dallas County since January, 1920, with the exception of from June 15th last year until May 1st of this year.

While a member of the district clerk's staff, Hill's work earned for the office around $15,000 per year for a period of ten years, earning for this office almost single handed as much as any four other clerks combined.

Mr. Hill received his business training at the Texas School for the Deaf, located in Austin.—Texas News.

SEATTLE

Rev. Eichmann, of Portland, delivered an interesting and instructive sermon to the Seattle deaf, Sunday evening, June 10th. About forty were present, and all members partook of the Lord's Supper, under our pastor, Rev. Westermann. We all were pleased to see Rev. Eichmann again, as he had lived in Seattle and learned the sign language from our former minister, Rev. Gaertner, several years ago.

The P. S. A. D. social, June 9th, was a pleasant affair, although the attendance was smaller than last month. The program was bridge, with True Partridge as the chairman and Mrs. C. Reeves and Mrs. W. E. Brown, his assistants to attend to refreshments. Prize winners were Mrs. Wright, J. T. Bodley, Mrs. V. Smith and A. W. Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves have purchased a five-acre tract close to Kent. It has a five-room house and has all city conveniences. There is a family orchard, from which Mr. Reeves picked a crate of raspberries that his wife just canned. He will live there during the week, improving it at leisure time for his health. He comes home week-ends to attend parties and meet friends. His daughter, Alice, her husband and two babies have moved there to keep house for a while. Some time we hope to drive there and inspect the place.

Mrs. W. A. Westermann and her two sons left June 13th for the East, to visit her old home and her relatives all summer. Rev. Westermann has to remain and look after his church. The night before Mrs. Westermann departed, she accompanied her husband to the apartment of Mrs. Mattie Dortero, who has not been very well, and bade her goodbye.

June 16th was Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brown's turn to entertain the Monthly Bridge Club. A good crowd came, and everyone expressed how much improved the Brown's home was after the recent renovation. The wallpaper and the woodwork were fine and it gave the appearance of the living and dining rooms being larger. Out in their flower garden was a new kind of flower—pink double canterbury—that attracted much attention. Bridge and "500" and a very nice luncheon were enjoyed. Their own raspberries were delicious and the best ever tasted. Mrs. Gustin took the prize for "500," A. W. Wright for bridge, and Frank Morrissey, the booby.

Rev. Eichmann, while here, informed us that Mrs. Lindstrom, of Salem, Ore., had the misfortune to break her ankle. She fell on the ground while going out to see a friend. Her son, Billy, from the University of Southern California, is home to help her and so is Mrs. Lindstrom's mother.

Mrs. C. Reeves was elected president of the Lutheran Ladies Aid this month. The other officers are vice-president, Miss Anna Kingdon; secretary, Mrs. Ziegler; treasurer, Mrs. Gustin; and directors, Mrs. Haire and Mrs. Wright.

The monthly luncheon, held at Mrs. J. T. Bodley's home, was lovely. Mrs. Arthur Martin and Mrs. Gustin were presented with nice prizes for Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodley and Mr. and Mrs. J. Adams were in Redmond, Sunday, June 3d, picking strawberries at the farm of Mrs. Henrich's mother. They brought home a large quantity. Mr. and Mrs. Henrich live besides this place. The party had a big picnic with the Henrichs.

Miss Edna Jacques, her mother and sister, are in Summer at the raspberry fields for a few weeks.

Frank Rolph was lucky to get passage on a fishing boat and went to Alaska to work in a cannery as a cook during the longshoreman's strike. Mrs. Rolph will stay in Seattle and continue her occupation as an egg candler.

One of Mrs. Brown's friends at the Emporium Dye Works presented her a crate of fine strawberries, just gathered from her ranch. She brought them to the Brown's residence in her car.

Herbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ziegler, graduated from Broadway High School last Thursday night. He was fifth in the half-mile track event of the combined Seattle high schools meet. He won a medal for first at Broadway High.

A. K. Wright's daughter, Mrs. Schaal, and her husband, who sold their home last summer, are now the owners of a lovely brick house of seven rooms on 37th Street N. E. and East 123d Avenue, one mile from the city limit.

Jean Bontyette, of New York City, 12-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Wright, are spending the summer with them in Seattle. He attended Hessian Hills Schools in Croton-on-Hudson, and last year spent his vacation at Tree Top Camp in the Adirondack Mountains. His mother, Mrs. Bontyette, is a commercial artist in the advertising department of Macy's in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Partridge and children and Mr. and Mrs. Wright with Jean, took an outing at Lake Roesinger yesterday. It is in Snohomish County, forty miles from Seattle, and a fascinating drive with beautiful scenery. The lake is extremely pretty, and Mr. Partridge took a swim before the picnic dinner. They rowed on the lake and motored farther, exploring the country.

PUGET SOUND.

June 17, 1934.

Spokane, Wash.

Frank LaBaugh, who used to go to the schools for the deaf in Illinois and Missouri, lived in Oklahoma, and moved to Spokane five years ago, likes Spokane, so he made his home with us here.

Mr. Edwin Whipple, from Kansas City, Mo., now lives here, selling the Spokane Daily Chronicle and Press. Frank lives with Edwin, who has owned a home here over thirty years. Both are bachelors.

The Frats and Frax meet at the church hall for the deaf the first of every month. There are about thirty-five men, and the ladies totaling the same. There is always a good time.

Mrs. Melba Landeryou, of Seattle, is visiting her parents for a few months. On her return she expects to meet her husband at San Francisco, Cal., and make her home there.

Mrs. Minnie Little, of San Francisco, is visiting here for a month. She was homesick to see her folks here. She had a delayed shower on June 16th. She was married in December, but her husband immediately took her to California, so there was no time for showers then. She has a deaf sister, Miss Mary Allen, who lives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lauer, formerly of Milwaukee, Wis., live here. They have their own log cabin at Diamond Lake, forty-two miles, that he built himself. He is a first-class cabinet maker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skoglund, from Vancouver, Wash., also own a log cabin at Hauser Lake, to enjoy the cool air there.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moore are proud of their new Reo car, large and roomy enough for seven persons. Their terrier got poisoned, and they miss the pet.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howell own a three-acre ranch. He is from Missouri, but his wife is a native of this State.

Mrs. George Graham, from this State, who married in the winter, was pleasantly surprised with a shower party at the home of Mrs. Susie Chambers and her mother, Alice Barry Sullivan. There was a big crowd there. The presents were lovely and useful.

Mrs. Anna Stevens, from Nebraska, lives here and has a son going to high school, who is doing fine.

There will be a picnic at Lincoln Park on the Fourth of July for a big celebration.

Miss Lotus Valentine, of Salem, Ore., who is assistant matron at the Salem school for the deaf, expects to visit Glacier Park and Canada on her way to Victoria, B. C., and Seattle on the return.

Mrs. Elsie McCoy accompanies Mrs. Belle Bergh, who leaves here on June 30th for Glacier Park.

Mrs. Ruby Winchell is well again after a month's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Eileen Bright moved here from Wallace, Idaho. They have a car, too, and always take some of us out riding. Frank LaBaugh also has a car, and spends most of every Sunday taking us for grand rides around Spokane and vicinity.

St. Louis, Mo.

The summer is not passing locally without the traditional June weddings, of which two were celebrated. On May 11th, Miss Elizabeth Stephens was united to Mr. Russell Mueller at the residence of Rev. Steideman, who officiated at the ceremony. Mr. Mueller has just opened a shoe repair shop in East St. Louis and felt the cares of business could best be alleviated with a bride; so license was procured. Miss Stephens comes from Springfield, Mo., and will be a valued addition to our circles in every way. She graduated from the Fulton, Mo., school two years ago. The ceremony was private, being witnessed only by a few relatives of the couple, who will reside in East St. Louis. On the 19th, Mr. Edgar Dykes and Miss Mildred Slattery, both of this city were united in the chapel of Christ Church Cathedral. Only a few friends and relatives were present. Miss Mildred Stifflet was bridesmaid and Bert Keim, best man for the groom. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Steidemann, the bridal couple with attendants were guests at the annual supper and bazaar of the Women's Guild of the Mission, held the same day. They will reside in this city where a nice suite of rooms have been secured. We wish the two couples a happy and prosperous voyage on life's sea.

The Woman's Guild of St. Thomas held their annual spring bazaar and supper on the 19th, and turned out their usual social and financial success. Mrs. Brockman had charge of the supper, the proof of its excellence being in that it entirely disappeared, and Mrs. Berwin running the bazaar, which made a creditable profit. The Guild will now be able to rest for the summer there.

The annual excursion of the Episcopal Church will be had on June 21st, an all-day excursion on the river to which some six score deaf and their friends annually attend for a enjoyable day's ride.

A canvass taken recently shows but two, William Schaub the president, and Louis Baur, our man-about-town, being the only delegates from this city planning to attend the N. A. D. convention in New York this summer. The latter may extend his trip into a world cruise, being gone till autumn.

Bernice Rodekopf gave the locals a glimpse of Chinatown at the Gallaudet Club on the 2d, at a party she managed for the benefit of the Club. Chinese dishes, costumes and games featured the evening. The attendance could have been better to reward the committee for its efforts to make the evening so enjoyable; for which the not-present prosperity is to be blamed.

A surprise birthday party was tendered Fred Stockick at the Alt's home recently and a good time had by all attending on the 2d. The recipient was remembered of the occasion with suitable mementoes of his natal day, and the jollity kept up till the last owl car was due. The evening was managed by the Alts and Mrs. Stockick.

Ed Miller has blossomed out in a new Chev, and taken the shine off all the other auto owners who can still stand the gaff for the up-keep of a car.

The bicycle paths of Forest Park are now dotted with our younger set on Sunday mornings astride their steel steeds; some bad headers have been taken by the group, but nothing serious happening.

A shower was given in honor of Mrs. Krauler, of Festus, Mo., by her hostess, Miss Annie Parrott, on the 3d. A nice time was had by her assembled friends.

Elmer Griser showed all the earmarks of a extra good husband by remembering the tenth anniversary of his wedding and presenting the missus with a Kelvinator.

Chairman Goff, one of our coming youngsters, showed what he could do at the Home Fund picnic on May 30th. Some two hundred were present and the supplies of eatables and drinks went off like butter on a hot biscuit. It was too warm for games, but a few were given, Miss Gertrude Reidmiller bearing off the best plum in that part of the day's program. A nice sum was realized for the Home Fund. Another affair of like calibre is planned for the 4th of July, at the Brockmann's home—a lawn party, but this is still in the planning stage. Some honors of the day must be handed out veteran Home Fund worker, George Hunter, who saw to the details of the day and remained till the last—which was till midnight.

The Steidemann's attended the Indiana reunion of June 7th to 10th, at Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Steidemann being an alumnae of the school and coming a few days in advance, as the guest of the Phillips. Services at the school on the 10th were conducted by the Revs. Hasenstab, Read and Steidemann. Some four hundred were tallied attending the triennial gathering.

Mrs. Lottie Wilson Wilhelm, of Detroit, is visiting her parents at Belleville, Ill., not far from this city. She will remain for a few weeks.

Mrs. Charles Wess was removed to her home in Belleville from St. Luke's Hospital of this city. We regret she did not get the relief she expected. Earl Buemann is back from the same institution, having had an operation that was successful. Our Hy. Stumpe is still in the city hospital, but getting better rapidly and may expect to be soon shifted to his home and family.

Mrs. Hy. Eckerich sprang a surprise on her "500 club" in entertaining them at Al. Smith's cafe. Not the famous New Yorker, but one well-known locally. Dinner was served after the games in a room reserved for her group. The novelty was so entertaining that others plan similar affairs, as relieving them of the work during the summer.

The Gilmeres also had the "500 club" at their home on the 14th, playing "500" and bridge ere disbanding for the summer. Suitable prizes were awarded the high score holders.

The deaf connected with the school at Fulton held a Home Fund picnic at Danville, Mo., recently. The Haigs, Deems and Arnots attended from this locality.

The Kaenters who left a year ago to establish themselves in Lebanon, Mo., where a new factory of their firm was located, were in this city recently, seeing old friends. They reported times in their locality were normal again and all working. Here, the average is a four-day week.

Messrs. Colton and Barnett are two printers from outside who have secured places, more or less permanent with local firms. Both are fine additions to our circles and we hope they will remain and bring new ideas in our midst.

The St. Louis Division Frat picnic was unexpectedly changed from the 10th to the 9th, to comply with the rules of a recently appointed excise commissioner which reduced its attendance, further lessened by rain till three in the afternoon. However, some two hundred attended, many from out of town—Fulton, Springfield and Jacksonville being amply represented. Supt. Ingle of the Fulton school came to meet his friends after a hundred-mile auto trip. The writer was out of town that day and unable to describe the day, or who were the notables present.
